

Learn the Lingo

ACROSS

- Towers provide this for others _____ (Hint: we ask our parents for this if we get stuck on puzzles).
- Like our muscles, Jerr-Dan Trucks are very _____.
- A tow truck with a flat deck on the back is call a _____. (Hint: JD is this type of a tow truck).
- The name of JD's friend that is a girl wrecker is _____.
- The name of JD's friend that is a really big rotator truck is _____.
- The flat bed on the back of a carrier is call the _____.
- JD's uncle Gator is this type of truck _____.
- The name of JD's friend that is a boy wrecker is _____. (Hint: First letter is "W" and rhymes with "try it").
- Towers wear high visibility gear to be seen and help them stay _____.
- JD's full name is three words long and it is _____.
- Wendy considers JD her friend or another word is _____.
- This J-shaped piece of metal is at the end of a chain and connects the tow truck to the recovery, it's called _____. (Hint: the same word is also used to catch fish!)
- The nickname for Jerr-Dan Junior is _____. (Hint: Wendy's pal).
- Jerr-Dan trucks are very well made and strong which makes them last for a long time because they are very _____. (Hint: Three syllables, and the first letter is "D").

DOWN

- Another word for interstate or large road where towers perform recoveries is _____.
- The short version of the word professional is _____.
- The building where JD, Wendy and Wyatt sleep at night if they're not working is call a _____. (Hint: your parents may also park their car in one!)
- Sometimes a tow truck driver is also called a _____ because he/she operates the equipment.
- Jerr-Dan trucks are proudly made in the _____. (Hint: 3 letters).
- A large tow job that often requires a heavy duty wrecker or rotator is call a _____.
- Another word for help is _____.
- The fuel that some tow trucks run on is called _____.
- The general term for wrecker, carrier and rotator is a _____ (two words).
- Another word for a street where cars drive, and towers help their owners is _____.
- The type of tow truck that Wendy and Wyatt are a _____.
- The initials for the organization called Towing & Recovery Association of America are _____.
- Towers are often very proud and patriotic people. The national bird of our country is an _____.
- When a tower puts something on the back of a carrier it is called a _____. (Hint: we also use this word with laundry).
- The front part of the tow truck where the tower drives the truck is called the _____. (Hint: a taxi is also called this same word).
- The color of the Jerr-Dan logo or symbol is _____.

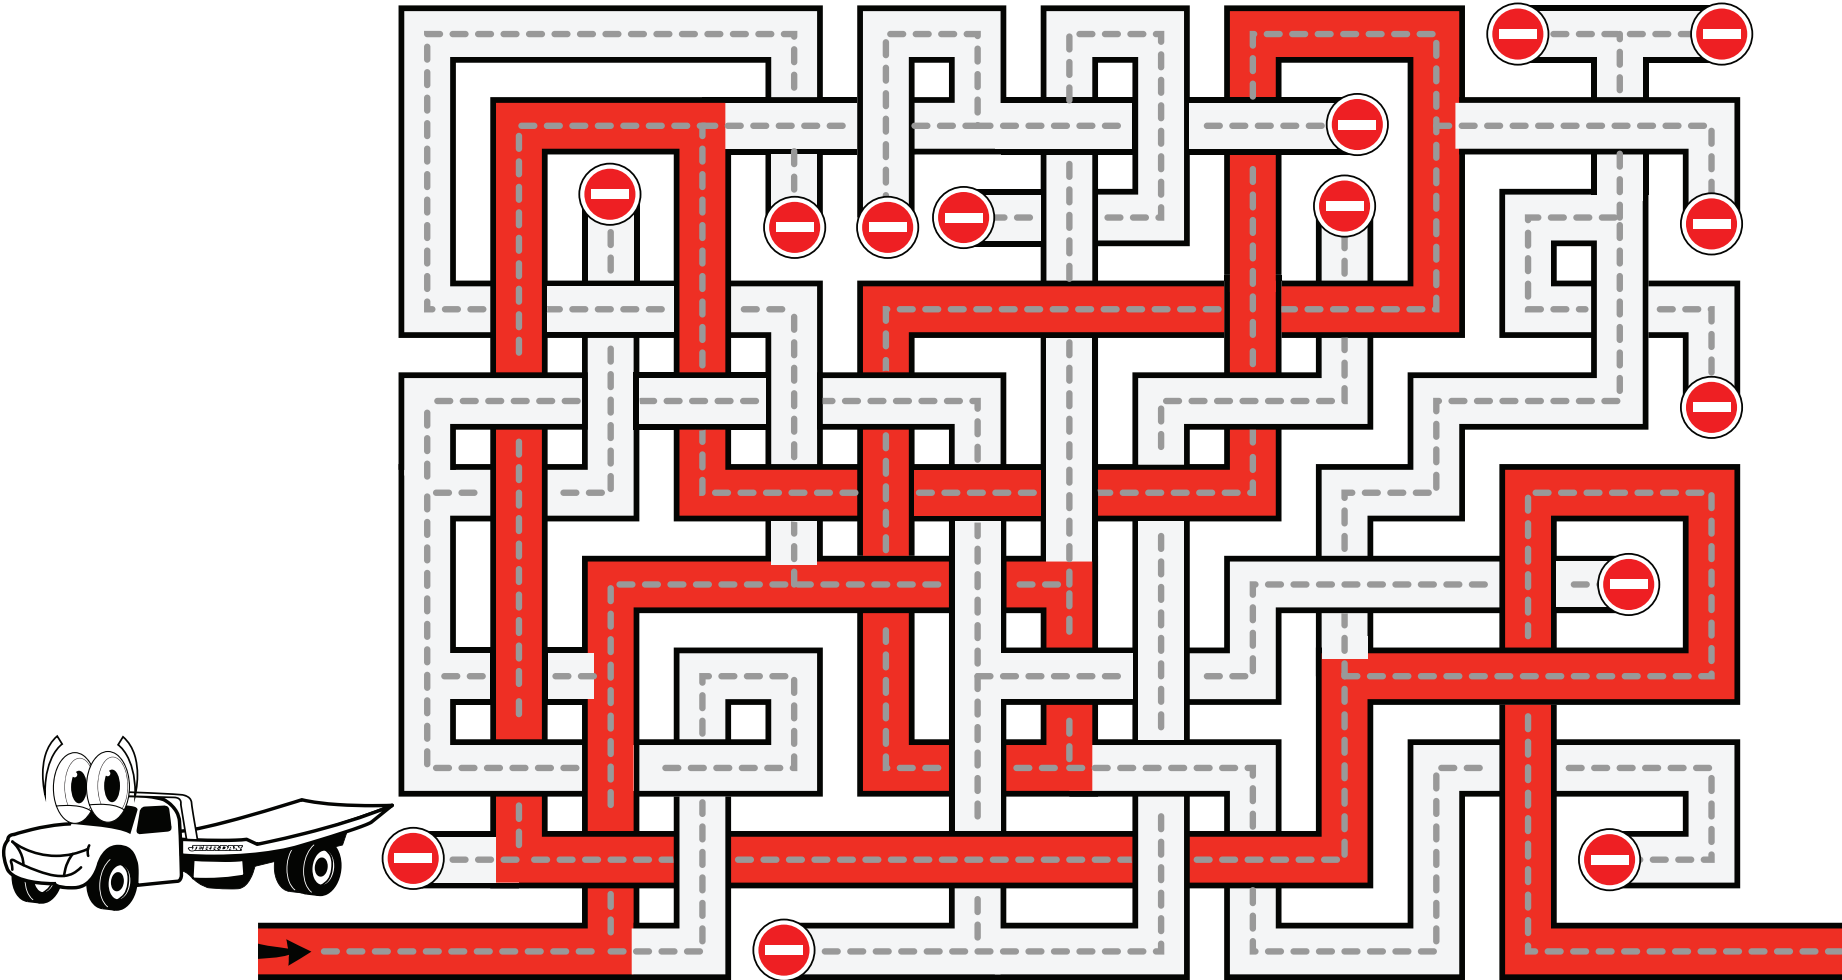

JERR-DAN

Go Tow to Tow (Answers)

JERR-DAN Jr

Help JD with His GPS

START

END

Find JD

